Jennifer Brooke Lawless, M.S. is a Clarity Guide and Aura Reader. She studied psychology and communications at Boston University and earned her Master of Science in Mental Health Counseling at Nova Southeastern University.

None of that training prepared her for what she actually needed to learn: how to recognize when love is control in disguise.

For years she stayed in relationships that ran on intensity instead of intimacy, and later in communities that spoke about liberation while running on control. She was told she was too sensitive. She was too perceptive.

She couldn't find the book that explained it. So she wrote it.

The Decoder Series is the guide she wished she'd had, written for everyone still wondering if they're the problem. They're not. Neither are you.

She is the author behind the Decoder Series.

She lives with her love outside the story now. That's the whole ending.

TALKS

Why Insight Doesn't Heal. The reason naming the pattern is only half the work, and what the body has to learn before the mind can rest.

Reading the Auric Field. What aura reading is, how the biofield holds the story the mind edits out, and what it reveals about where healing wants to go.

Nervous System Regulation as Recovery. Her account of why somatic and energy work moved her further than a decade of insight-based therapy.

Building Secure Attachment From the Inside Out. What it takes to become the safe person you needed, and the slow practices that get you there.

Writing the Book You Needed. On the Decoder Series: the decision to write for the person she used to be, and what that does to a writer's voice.
